Dean's office invites you to holiday open house – Mark your calendar for the dean's office holiday open house on Monday, December 16, 3:00-4:30. Faculty, staff, students, and friends of the college will be treated to seasonal refreshments – spiced cider, cookies, and other snacks. Come share some holiday cheer.

Reminder about inclement weather – The National Weather Service is predicting ice storm conditions for this evening and tomorrow in the northern and central portions of Arkansas. Be sure to check your UAMS email and local TV and radio for updates on campus status. If UAMS's public service announcement states that non-essential areas are closed due to inclement weather, classes on campus will be cancelled. However, students and faculty on clinical rotations will follow the inclement weather policy for the clinical facility. If in doubt, students on rotations should contact their clinical supervisor.
