selected for scholarship

(Jenny) Gip
been selected Waggoner
the American recognition of and personal accomplishments. Jenny will receive a nice scholarship check, and she will receive a complimentary student registration to attend ASE's Annual Scientific Sessions in Boston in mid-June. On top of that, ASE will provide up to $500 for Jenny's travel to the conference, and our Sonography program will match the travel support. Congratulations to Jenny for her outstanding accomplishments and the well-deserved recognition from ASE.

Sonography student prestigious – At the end of January, Sonography student Hoa was notified that she has to receive the Alan D. Student Scholarship from Society of Echocardiography (ASE) in her outstanding academic

Radiologic Imaging Sciences gets a boost to student scholarship fund

– The Division of Radiologic Imaging Sciences (RIS) got a very nice surprise in December when Shelly Pike, former faculty member in Texarkana, delivered in person a check for almost $8500 for the endowed scholarship fund for RIS students. The generous donation will increase the amount available for the endowed scholarship by about $350 each year.

The funds were left over after the Texarkana Society of Radiologic Technologists disbanded, and the society's leaders decided that the money should benefit "rad tech" students. In the photo, Cindy Saylor, director of the RIS program, and Douglas Murphy, dean, accept a check for the generous donation from Shelli Pike. Thank you, Shelli and the Texarkana Society of Radiologic Technologists!
